The retainer reserves the date and is non-refundable, because the Photographer turns down other work for that date. If the Client cancels, payments beyond the retainer are refunded less any costs already incurred.

3. Copyright and use of photos

The Photographer owns the copyright in the photos. The Client receives a licence to print and share the photos for personal, non-commercial use. The Photographer may use selected photos in a portfolio, website or social media unless the Client opts out here:

Client opts out of portfolio use (yes/no)

4. Other terms

If the Photographer cannot attend because of illness or emergency, they will try to send a qualified replacement; if none is available, all payments are refunded. The Photographer's liability is limited to the amount paid. This contract is governed by the laws of Ontario, and electronic signatures on it are binding.
